

Wanted!

You will need: Paper or poster template, pencils and coloured pencils, crayons or felt-tips.

- What to do:
- What is your favourite wild animal, insect or bird?
  - Imagine that they have gone missing and you want to find them.
  - Use the sheet attached to make a Wanted poster. Alternatively you could design your own on a piece of plain paper if you wanted to.
  - Draw a big picture of your chosen animal.
  - What is it about your animal that makes it easy to recognise? Write some words or phrases on your poster to help people to identify them, e.g. Wanted! Big mouth full of teeth. Hairy legs.
  - Use lots of colour to make your poster stand out. Bring your poster into class.

Drawing pictures is a good way for children to express their ideas before embarking on the more technical skill of writing down the words to describe it. Help your child to sound out words to write them down. Don't worry if they aren't spelt correctly. Hearing the sounds and writing them down in a plausible way is more important.
